CLOCK RUN BY A GEYSER.

Amos Lane is at work on an invention which cannot fail to be one of the attractions of the town when completed. A Young Counterfelter Caught Page says the Amedee Gey er.

It consists of a large clock, the figures of which can be seen from the ho et, the motive power for which will be the ever-boiling geyser.

The clock will be crected in some spot where it will be creeted in some spot where it will be prominent. The geyser bubbles and rises every thirty-eight sec-onds, as regular as clockwork would re-wure, and every time it does so it will raise a lever that will move the clock exactly thirty eight seconds ahead,
Thus it can be made to keep perfect
